She shows that the poem presents a model of the human mind. In that mind is enacted an event (the war with Napoleon) and, simultaneously, the watching of that event. The author provides a reading of the poem in visual-dramatic terms, using the diorama stage as the vehicle for the poet's field of vision.

applies to many aspects of life in various ways. For example, helping an old woman across the street is poetic, so kindness and compassion are characteristics of something poetic. However, a poem about death could also be considered poetic because of its message, meaning, or because it holds some great truth.

The virtues of the camera fit perfectly with his search for a concise yet poetic vision of the world: its instant prints were, for the infirm seventy-year-old photographer, what scissors and cut paper were for the aging Matisse. The unique SX-70 prints are the artist's last photographs, the culmination of half a century of work in photography.
